Results of Operations

During the year, Canso employed its bottom-up process to buy and sell securities for the Fund. The Fund’s positioning and performance is consistent with the Fund’s fundamental investment objective and strategies.

The Fund returns for the year ended December 31, 2024 were 3.51% for Series A, 3.87% for Series C and 3.73% for Series F.

The net assets of the Fund were approximately $15.1 million at December 31, 2024 from $18.7 million at the beginning of the period. There were net redemption of approximately $3.2 million during the period.

There were no unusual changes to the components of revenue and expenses of the Fund and there were no unusual events or transactions, economic changes or market conditions that affected performance beyond what would be reasonably expected or as described below.

The Fund did not borrow money during the year except for immaterial short-term cash overdrafts.

Recent Developments

The U.S. Federal Reserve made two additional quarter-point interest rate cuts during the fourth quarter. The central bank acknowledged that economic activity is strong, and the labour market reasonable. While inflation has come down, it remains higher than their two percent objective. Investors were surprised when the Federal Reserve cautioned about continued aggressive rate cuts into the future. Inflation numbers going forward may be muddled with the President-elect imposing tariffs and deporting unauthorized immigrants. His other election promises of tax cuts and looser regulation may also prove inflationary.

The Bank of Canada reduced its overnight interest rate as economic activity softened due to lower business investment and exports. However, consumer spending and housing activity picked up following lower interest rates. Employment growth has slowed, but wage growth remains elevated. Lower immigration and tariffs from the incoming U.S. administration are expected to weaken our economic growth. The Canadian dollar has depreciated significantly against the U.S. dollar, which may affect consumer sentiment and increase import prices.

During the year, the Fund focused on maintaining its position in short-dated, liquid securities. The Fund established weights in a high-quality, short-term corporates including American Honda Finance, Apple, Manulife Financial, New York Life Global Funding, Toyota Motor Credit Corp, and UBS Group AG. The weight in Treasury bonds continues to represent a significant position in the Fund; however, it decreased during the year to 74% from 92% due to the addition of the previously mentioned corporate issuers. Also, the Fund repositioned its weighted average term by switching into longer dated bonds. The Fund's term-to-maturity was 2.7 years, and duration to 2.6 years at the end of the year.

There have been no changes to the Manager or Portfolio Manager, or change of control of the Manager, or of the Fund. There have been no actual or planned reorganizations, mergers or similar transactions involving the Fund.

Effective June 30, 2024, Paul Fahey resigned as a member of the Fund's Independent Review Committee ("IRC"). Effective July 1, 2024, Donna Peters-Imbrogno was appointed as a member of the IRC.

Related Party Transactions

The Manager provides or arranges to provide for the provision of all general management and administrative services required by the Fund in its day-to-day operations, including but not limited to, calculating and reporting the net asset value of the Fund and its series, preparing all offering documents, unitholder recordkeeping and other administrative services. The Manager receives a management fee for these services. The fee is calculated based on a percentage of the net asset value of the Fund as disclosed in the simplified prospectus.

The Fund paid USD $48,116 (excluding HST) in management fees to the Manager for the year ended December 31, 2024 (December 31, 2023 - USD $30,553).

Portfolio management fees for the Portfolio Manager's services are paid from the management fee.

* Series A commenced operations on January 5, 2022.

² Net assets and distributions are based on the actual numbers of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per unit.

³ Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units, or both.

⁵ The management expense ratio is based on the total expenses of the period ended and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset values during the period.
