The indicated rates of return are historical annual compounded total returns including changes in unit value and reinvestment of all distributions and do not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or optional charges or income taxes payable by any securityholder that would have reduced returns. Investment funds are not guaranteed or insured, their values change frequently and past performance may not be repeated. The indicated rates of return are based on calculated net asset values per unit, which are net of management fees, operating expenses, and applicable taxes. These returns include changes in unit value and reinvestment of all distributions and do not take into account certain fees such as redemption fees or optional charges or income taxes payable by any securityholder that would have reduced returns. Please read the prospectus before investing. Investment funds are not guaranteed, their values change frequently and past performance may not be repeated.

You will usually pay brokerage fees to your dealer if you purchase or sell units of Canso Credit Income Fund ("CCIF") on the Toronto Stock Exchange ("TSX"). If the units are purchased or sold on the TSX, investors may pay more than the current net asset value when buying units of these investment funds and may receive less than the current net asset value when selling them. There are ongoing fees and expenses associated with owning units of CCIF. An investment fund must prepare disclosure documents that contain key information about the fund. You can find more detailed information about the fund in these documents. Performance returns for Class A and Class F units of CCIF are based on the net asset values of the relevant class. Prior to June 25, 2015, CCIF used a fund-on-fund investment strategy whereby CCIF gained exposure to Canso Credit Trust through a forward agreement. On June 25, 2015, as a result of changes to the Income Tax Act (Canada), CCIF changed its investment objectives, ceased to use a fund-on-fund strategy and began investing in securities directly. In addition, *prior to July 1, 2020, CCIF paid servicing fees at 0.40% per annum on Class A units. On July 1, 2020, CCIF discontinued the payment of servicing fees. These changes could have affected the performance of CCIF had these changes been in effect throughout the performance measurement period. The Class A performance numbers shown may be different from the performance provided by sources that obtain performance information from the TSX under the symbol PBY.UN, which performance is based on the trading price of the units. Only Class A units of CCIF are listed on the TSX.

Lysander-Canso Credit Opportunities Fund ("LYZ494") is an alternative mutual fund. It has the ability to invest in asset classes or use investment strategies that are not permitted for other types of mutual funds. The specific strategies that differentiate LYZ494 from other types of mutual funds include: increased use of derivatives for non-hedging purposes; increased ability to sell securities short; and the ability to borrow cash to use for investment purposes. While these strategies will be used in accordance with the LYZ494's investment objectives and strategies, during certain market conditions they may accelerate the pace at which your investment decreases in value. Prior to May 11, 2020, Series F units of LYZ494 were offered on a private placement basis. The inception date of Series F Units is March 31, 2014. The inception date of LYZ494 is December 19, 2008. Performance information of Series F of LYZ494 for the period December 19, 2008 to March 30, 2014 is that of LYZ494 but with Series F fees and expenses applied. Prior to May 11, 2020, the operating expenses of LYZ494 would have been higher had LYZ494 been subject to the additional regulatory requirements applicable to a reporting issuer.
